

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy protections. The Indiana Telephone Privacy law has improved out time at home as we do not have to get up several times during the evening to answer a telemarketing call. We used to receive as many as 12 calls per week from telemarketing and now receive none. Makes our evenings more enjoyable.